

THE MIDDLETON CENTER

for pastoral care and counseling

Frequently Asked Questions

Whom do we serve?

Some people come to the Middleton Center seeking relief from emotional difficulties such as anxiety or depression. Others come to heal broken relationships. Some come simply from a feeling of restlessness, struggling with questions over the next phase of their lives or work. Many have a connection to Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church; others have no church or religious connection. ALL ARE WELCOME and all will find competent, caring professionals to support, guide and empower them.

What are your fees?

Fees are determined by the nature of the requested service. Financial assistance is available for those in need.

How do you find out more?

Contact us at 610-525-0766 or at info@middletoncenter.org.

Why are you in a church?

The Middleton Center is a specialized ministry housed at Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. It welcomes people from all backgrounds, beliefs and faiths who desire to enhance the connections between body, mind and spirit.

Do you accept insurance?

We do not currently accept insurance. Fees are on a sliding scale, and we do not turn anyone away because of financial limitations.

How do I schedule an appointment?

Anyone over age 18 is welcome to call The Middleton Center at 610-525-0766. All calls and conversations are confidential. For children and younger adolescents, parents are welcome to call and schedule an appointment.

Cancellation policy:

24 hours notice on all cancellations is requested.
