WELCOME TO BMPC

LABYRINTH

On this Longest Night, we move from darkness to light. Outside the Sanctuary main doors on the Education Building Lawn, our labyrinth has been placed as a way to mark your journey here tonight. A labyrinth offers a sacred, nonjudgmental place to pray, meditate and breathe. Walking a labyrinth engages the entire body in releasing the noise of everyday life and allows the possibility of receiving the Light to refresh the soul. We invite you to walk or to simply take in the light.

GATHERING OF GOD'S PEOPLE

“Even when light fades and darkness falls – as it does every single day, in every single life – God does not turn the world over to some other deity...

*Here is the testimony of faith: darkness is not dark to God;
the night is as bright as the day.”*

ANTHEM

Lunar Lullaby
Singing City Chamber Choir

Jacob Narverud

The moon settles in the dusky sky The gentle eyes of the north star rest upon
Your sleeping face and the heavens gaze upon you In this moment, I know;
You are not from the ground on which you tread, but of the stars You are my radiant, my celestial child. As night is drowned by morning you remain at my side, Accompanying the sunrise until night swells again across the sky. Then, dreaming, you return to the star.

PROCLAMATION OF THE WORD

FIRST READING

Blessing for the Longest Night
By Jan Richardson

Franklyn C. Pottorff

All throughout these months as the shadows have lengthened, this blessing has been gathering itself, making ready, preparing for this night.

It has practiced walking in the dark, traveling with its eyes closed, feeling its way by memory, by touch, by the pull of the moon even as it wanes.

So believe me when I tell you this blessing will reach you even if you have not light enough to read it; it will find you even though you cannot see it coming.

You will know the moment of its arriving by your release of the breath you have held so long; a loosening of the clenching in your hands, of the clutch around your heart; a thinning of the darkness that had drawn itself around you.

This blessing does not mean to take the night away but it knows its hidden roads, knows the resting spots along the path, knows what it means to travel in the company of a friend.

So when this blessing comes, take its hand. Get up. Set out on the road you cannot see.

This is the night when you can trust that any direction you go, you will be walking toward the dawn.

I Will Light Candles This Christmas
Singing City Chamber Choir

Kim André Arnessen

I will light Candles this Christmas; Candles of joy despite all sadness; Candles of hope where despair keeps watch, Candles of courage for fears ever present, Candles of peace for tempest-tossed days, Candles of grace to ease heavy burdens, Candles of love to inspire all my living, Candles that will burn all year long. When the song of the angels is stilled, When the star in the sky is gone, When the kings and princes are home, When the shepherds are back with their flock, The work of Christmas begins: To find the lost, To heal the broken, To feed the hungry, To release the prisoner, To rebuild the nations, To bring peace among others, To make music in the heart.

RESPONSE TO THE WORD

LITANY OF REMEMBERING

Agnes W. Norfleet

One: The image of light describes the power of Jesus Christ to expel the darkness. We light the first candle to remember the people in our lives who have died this past year, whose presence we ache for, whose spirit we are missing, whose absence we grieve.

All: God, we ache. (Silence)

One: The second candle we light represents the wide range of losses we and others in our lives are grieving right now – broken relationships, the loss of health, jobs, faith that used to be certain, and dreams that were shattered.

All: God, we're grieving. (Silence)

One: The third candle we light for our weary souls, for the burdens we are carrying, for our heavy hearts. We give thanks for family and friends who have stood with us, grateful for the care we have felt and support we have known.

All: God, we long for light. (Silence)

One: We light the fourth candle as a symbol of our desire for hope and peace in this season, to remember that despite the darkness, light and love can seep in.

All: God, we're open. (Silence)

One: The light shines in the darkness.

All: And the darkness will not overcome it.

PRAYER FOR THE PREPARATION OF CHRISTMAS

Franklyn C. Pottorff

Christmas comes every time we see God in other persons.

The human and the holy meet in Bethlehem

or in Times Square,

For Christmas comes like a golden storm on its way to Jerusalem –

Determinedly, inevitably...

Even now it comes

In the face of hatred and warring –

No atrocity too terrible to stop it,

No Herod strong enough,

No hurt deep enough,

No curse shocking enough,

No disaster shattering enough –

For someone on earth will see the star,

Someone will hear the angel voices,

Someone will run to Bethlehem,

Someone will know peace and goodwill:

The Christ will be born!

WORSHIP NOTES

Tonight, we welcome members of Singing City Choir and its Associate Conductor, Nate Zullinger, to help lead the service. Singing City Choir was founded as an integrated choir in 1948 in Philadelphia by Dr. Elaine Brown. For over half a century, Singing City has been Philadelphia's premier avocational chorus, committed to bringing people together through music. It grew out of the Fellowship House movement, which believed that differences between races, religions, and cultures could be bridged by ordinary people coming together in shared activities.

In addition to its deep commitment to inclusion and community building, Singing City Choir has consistently achieved the highest levels of performance practice and artistry.

The 80-member chorus led by Jeffrey Brillhart, Artistic and Music Director, continues to fulfill its original mission, which today encompasses educational programs for youth, T-VOCE (Teen Voices of the City Ensemble), and programs for underserved populations.

For more information about Singing City, visit www.singingcity.org.

Singing City's musical leadership tonight is made possible by the Richard W. Ledwith Christmas Music Fund of the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church Foundation.
